TOWARD MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING

A mutual meeting between Warren County Commissioners, township supervisors and the planning commission drew representatives from various groups interested in the future of the area. County Agent Bernie Wingert, standing, drew a graphic picture of what needs to be done to clean up the county. County Takes Giant Step Toward Communication Pipeline

By BETTY RICE

A giant step was taken in Warren County Wednesday night when the county commissioners called a meeting with township supervisors and the planning commission in an effort to set up a communication pipeline between the three bodies.

With some 75 persons in attendance, only one member of the county planning commission plus Bill Rusin, planning director, was present.

Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, Dr. David K. Rice, said it was hoped Wednesday's session was the first of several such gatherings anticipated since local government appeared to be getting more and more complicated. He noted a need for mutual understanding so "things can go more smoothly." He further advised the supervisors that they could help, particularly in zoning enforcement, Rice said although the county now has an enforcement officer "you (the supervisors) can see what's going on sooner while it might take months on the county level."

Representatives of the U.S. Forest Service referred to Warren County as leaders in the field of planning in time to keep with its needs and added the Forest Service "wants to help in any way possible despite possible conflicts in some areas."

One of the most vital issues raised was in regard to the planning commission and how that group plans to work with local boards. It was pointed out that townships should be notified of any action taken within the townships. One spokesman stated this was a matter of rules and regulations and that townships have not been getting this cooperation or notification until "everything was all over and done with."

Commissioner Rice said it had become obvious to the new board that there were instances where the "right hand didn't know what the left hand was doing" but pledged full cooperation despite some diplomatic errors.

Planning director Bill Rusin stated that while the county was one of the first to establish a zoning ordinance in the Commonwealth, the present regulations are not foolproof and need some revisions.

Still another supervisor recommended the planning commission keep constituents better informed and cited a lack

De Gaulle Regime Repulses Drive To Oust Cabinet

PARIS (AP) — With an 11-vote margin, President Charles De Gaulle's regime repulsed a drive in Parliament Wednesday night to oust a cabinet battered by student upheavals and paralyzing nationwide strikes.

But only hours after Gaullist Premier Georges Pompidou won the confidence test in the National Assembly, thousands of students swarmed to within 100 yards of Parliament in new protest demonstrations.

Hundreds of riot police, wearing helmets and carrying arms and shields, quickly surrounded the columned Palais Bourbon where Parliament continued to meet after the censure motion received the support of 233 deputies, 11 short of the required simple majority of 244 votes.

The high black metal grillwork gates at the Parliament entrance were clanged shut, and authorities turned down a request for the students to hold a meeting at the building.

Demonstrations continued into the early hours of Thursday with several hundred students attacking the Senate building.

They broke windows with rocks and brought a shower of tear gas grenades on their heads. They also damaged a few police vans. Water cannons rolled up and splashed demonstrators a few blocks away in Place St. Michel.

Approval of the motion would have forced Pompidou and his cabinet to resign and De Gaulle to find a new premier. While the term of De Gaulle as president runs until 1972 and was not at stake in the balloting, a defeat for Pompidou would have staggered the 77-year-old soldier-statesman, whose prestige has suffered sharply in the academic-industrial crisis.

De Gaulle is due to address the nation Friday night on the upheaval that has idled 8 million workers.

The students were protesting a government ban on the return to France of student leader Daniel Cohn-Bendit, who was on a speaking trip in Amsterdam Wednesday.

Senate Defeats Amendments To Crime Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated Wednesday two amendments to the crime control bill which would have limited a section authorizing court-supervised wiretaps by police.

Opponents contended the amendments, offered by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., would undermine the section and deny law enforcement officers tools necessary to deal with crime.

"Let's not weaken the bill so it cannot be effective," Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., the bill's floor manager, told the Senate.

Two amendments offered by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., were accepted by McClellan and approved by voice vote.

One provides that when notice is given of electronic surveillance to persons who were named in a court order, the judge may also require that other persons whose conversations were picked up be notified if he determines this would be in the interest of justice.

The other requires that when an application is made for an extension of a court order, a statement must be submitted to make a fresh showing of probable cause.

Earlier in the day the Senate rejected, 63-18, another amendment by Long to provide a right to counsel at draft board hearings.

Hanoi Delegation Raises Possibility Discussions on Vietnam War May Fail

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam Wednesday night recessed their preliminary peace talks until Monday after the Hanoi delegation for the first time suggested the possibility that these discussions might fail.

In calm tones but with acid words the two delegations once again declined to budge from stated positions. The leader of the Hanoi delegation, Xuan Thuy, asserted: "In the event these official conversations do not conclude with results, the American side must bear the full and entire responsibility."

A U.S. delegation spokesman said he did not take Thuy's statement as an implied threat to break off the talks.

"It is a statement of position, preparing the way for the position to take if, for any reason, the talks did fail," said William J. Jordan, the American spokesman. "If the talks should fail the people of the world will make their own judgment."

But the way the U.S. spokesman described the session, he left the impression the Americans felt they were sparring with the North Vietnamese refusal to admit they have any troops in South Vietnam, although U.S. intelligence reports from Vietnam say Hanoi has virtually stripped its own territory and has the equivalent of 12 divisions in the South.

"It's hard to see how we can move on toward finding a peaceful settlement of a war when we are dealing with someone who won't even admit he is there," Jordan said.

Time after time U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator, challenged the North Vietnamese delegation to avoid public statements and mutual recriminations and to get down to business.

nesslike talks in private. His efforts were rebuffed. But there is no thought of the Americans giving up in despair. Asked if the Americans had thought of breaking up the conference, Jordan quickly retorted: "Certainly not."

Harriman tried again to take the conference out of what he calls the realm of propaganda in which, he said, the Hanoi delegation issues statements for the sake of the impact on world opinion. He said some people were getting "disgusted" with North Vietnamese allegations which had no basis in fact.

But immediately after the session at the French international conference center, the North Vietnamese spokesman began reading the text of Thuy's remarks in the meeting. Then the Americans likewise released information of what had taken place.

Allies Pound Enemy In Demilitarized Zone

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s and Marine fighter-bombers teamed up Wednesday pounding enemy positions in the demilitarized zone, where growing North Vietnamese strength poses a threat in the far north. Waves of the eight-engine Stratofortresses twice attacked suspected North Vietnamese artillery positions, troop concentrations, truck parks and supply areas in the zone between the Vietnams.

Then Marine planes raked enemy positions in the zone. Pilots reported they touched off nine explosions, indicating hits on ammunition or fuel dumps.

The zone not only provides the North Vietnamese with a base close to Marine positions just to the south, but it also is an infiltration route into South Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese have shown increasing aggressiveness in the far north in the past week. They attacked Marine bases below the zone Sunday after a week of heavy fighting south of Da Nang, about 100 miles southeast of the border.

Tuesday and Wednesday enemy attacks concentrated around the provincial capital of Quang Tri, 16 miles south of the zone, and around Hue, 25 miles south-east of Quang Tri.

Copter Crashes; 23 Feared Dead

PARAMOUNT, Calif. (AP) — A large helicopter with 23 persons aboard crashed late Wednesday into a cow pasture off a busy intersection near Los Angeles, and authorities said no one survived.

The single-rotor Sikorsky craft "exploded in the air and disintegrated," a witness said. It was headed for Los Angeles International Airport from Disneyland, amusement park 27 miles from downtown Los Angeles. The 32-mile flight, one of 30 daily, was half completed.

Elected by Acclamation To Head County GOP

William E. Rice, a former GOP chairman, was last night elected by acclamation to lead the party in Warren county for the next two years.

Rice, Warren county register and recorder, drew a unanimous vote of the 44 committee men and women present to succeed Gurney R. Ball of Youngsville, who declined to be a candidate for re-election for reasons of health.

Rice's name was placed before the meeting by Harold A. Hill, veteran committeeman of Limestone township.

In his acceptance speech the chairman outlined the program contemplated in this national election year and stated that an executive committee would be appointed within the next two weeks.

Gerald C. Ostergard and Fred Berry were re-appointed treasurer and secretary, respectively, and William F. Clinger was named chairman of the finance committee by the new chairman.

Ball completed three terms as leader of the party last night but continues as committeeman for Youngsville Borough, a post he has held for many years.

"Bill," the son of the late Judge and Mrs. William E. Rice, is currently serving his second term as register and recorder and clerk of the orphan's court. A former county treasurer, Rice was a member of Warren borough council for 12 years, president of council for three terms and Burgess for one and a half terms, resigning the latter post when he was elected treasurer.

Long active in GOP circles, the new chairman was committeeman for the first ward for several years and served two terms as county chairman when he succeeded the late Allen M. Gibson.

British and French Representatives To Participate in 'Flags' Ceremony

The governments of Great Britain and France are sending representatives to Warren to take part in the dedication and erection of the Three Flags in Crescent Park on May 30 according to William F. Clinger Jr., program chairman.

Representing His Excellency the Ambassador of France will be Count Reginald de Warren, Consul General of France in Philadelphia.

Her Majesty's Consul from the British Consulate in Cleveland, Eric W. Cook has also accepted an invitation to participate in the program and will be accompanied here by Mrs. Cook.

Representing the United States government will be the Honorable Joseph S. Clark, Senator from Pennsylvania who will make the principal address.

These three officials will present the historic flags of their countries in public ceremonies at 4:30 p.m. in Crescent Park under the sponsorship of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau and the Warren County Historical Society.

Other dignitaries who will share the platform include the Honorable Albert Johnson, U.S. Congressman; Honorable Richard C. Frame, member of the Senate of Pennsylvania; Honorable William W. Allen, State Assemblyman for Warren Forest Counties; and the Honorable James B. Stevenson, chair-

Probation Association Reports Over $53,000 in Endowment Fund

The Warren County Probation Association held its annual meeting in Judge Alexander C. Flick's chambers Monday evening with 17 members present.

President William Karns presided at the members' session with the directors' meeting immediately following. Richard Huber, treasurer, reported $53,000 in the endowment fund, the interest from which is applied to the probation officers' salary.

Memorials placed in WCPA from May 15, 1967 to May 15, 1968 were made in memory of Annette Stone Flick, Mrs. Pace, Richard Tranter, Walter Peake Esq., Genevieve Moll, Marshall Bucklin, William C. Fuellhart, Robert M. Kinkead, Judge Charles Hubbard, M. A. Kornreich Esq., Dr. Leroy Chapman, Albert Kirberger, Alfred Kinney, Edith Harper Smith, Samuel H. Rasmussen, Rose L. Sallack, Clifford R. Betts, Harry W. Conarro, Warren G. Lowe and Ralph Strauser.

A final campaign figure of $1,851.82 was reported for 1976. The probation office reported a busy year and presented statistics as to the number of young people involved in official and unofficial probation; the number in training schools; the age groups represented and the types of misconduct.

At the directors' meeting, appreciation for their service was extended to outgoing members, Richard Huber, David Smith, Scott Calderwood, James Streich and Donald Holmes.

New members of the board are Robert Jones, Joseph DeFrees, Henry Fuellhart, James C. Peterson and Norman Perschke. Officers who will serve during 1968 are William L. Karns, president; Alexander C. Flick Jr., vice president and S. Knox Harper Esq., secretary. A treasurer will be appointed in the near future. Mrs. Helen Olson will continue as assistant to the treasurer and will conduct the mail campaign in July.

Each year the campaign brings the association to the attention of interested Warren citizens who, by their contributions, help improve the county's probation services.

Misleading Reports Cited In Antipoverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office says it found misleading reports that counted some aid recipients more than once, unjustified financial claims and other management shortcomings in the Chicago antipoverty program.

In a newly released report, the GAO said the Office of Economic Opportunity should broaden its antipoverty audits to make sure "information which it receives from grantees is reliable" and that "programs are being administered as effectively and as economically as they should be."

The OEO responded that "the ability to accomplish this ideal goal has been influenced by the availability of staff"—meaning it needs more people.

Car Stolen

A car owned by Miner Laufberger, 785 Cobham Park rd., was reported stolen Monday afternoon from a parking place at Parish Battery and Electrical Service, 6 Market st.

Police said the car was a blue and white 1962 Rambler with registration plate number 676 42V.

The theft was reported shortly after 5 p.m. The keys were not in the auto, police said.

WAHS Concert Is Big Hit

A concert by The Happenings at Warren Area High School May 10 was a big hit thanks to the response by students at the school and the support of the Warren Kiwanis Club.

The student council picked The Happenings from a list of four big name bands. Because of the limited seating capacity, it was necessary to get financial backing. The Kiwanis Club came through by agreeing to help cover any loss in the venture.

Over 900 students attended the concert to watch the group which first came to fame with a recording of "See You In September." The Happenings sang a variety of songs and did impressions of such stars as Dean Martin, The Beach Boys and Bob Dillon.

Students Donate 138 Pints of Blood

There were 161 high school seniors from Warren, Eisenhower, Sheffield and Youngsville who displayed school spirit and a sense of community responsibility yesterday when they donated 138 pints of blood to the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross.

There were 23 rejects. Red Cross and school officials praised the various student officers, committees, and all eligible seniors who, through their efforts and willingness to help, made the May visit of the Bloodmobile a success.

This was the first time that a majority of the students had ever given blood, and they indicated that it was a new and rewarding experience. It also gave them a sense of pride and accomplishment to know that their blood would some day be used to save a life or help a sick person to recover.

Rice stated Wednesday's meeting was the first move to erase "apprehension as to what's going on in the court house" and asked supervisors to feel free to call on the county commissioners or the planning office for any information.

Blain M. Mead said it was planned to hold regular meetings with Rep. William W. Allen and others involved in county affairs to keep abreast of activities or to find answers to questions.

Introduced by Ralph Grimm, chairman of the Warren County Beautification and Redevelopment Committee, Bernie Wingert, county agent, presented an excellent slide-narrative program, depicting wrecked and abandoned cars, junk along highways, dilapidated homes, industry of yesteryears which leave marks and other eyesores typical of this county and other areas.

Noting that Warren County is endowed with natural beauty, Wingert urged leadership and full support from individuals and groups to assist in a full scale attack to rid the area of unsightly scenes and beautify the county—a move essential to "our rural life."

John Haniak of Columbus township advised he would volunteer to head a committee to get rid of junk autos—"we have a play ground here," he said, "let's keep it clean."

Thomas J. Donnelly referred to the General Development Plan for the county which outlines goals for the next 15 to 20 years. "We can't wait that long," he said, "we have to get on the ball now."

Remarks were also made by Lyle Cathcart of the Soil Conservation Service in regard to the Warren County sewage survey, now about 65 per cent completed and by Ronald Brumagin of the State Health Department in regard to rules governing home sewage disposal plants and related matters.

Also present for the session, in addition to Ward Sharp of the planning commission and the supervisors, were Frank Isenman Jr., zoning enforcement officer and Barry Epstein of the Warren County Chamber of Commerce. Representative Allen made a brief appearance later in the evening.

15th Heart Transplant Patient Said in Excellent Condition

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Louis John Fierro of Elmont, N.Y., the world's 15th heart transplant patient, was described in excellent condition Wednesday by his doctors at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley, who heads the St. Luke's Hospital transplant team, said Fierro, 54, was sitting up and joking with attendants six hours after the overnight surgery. His blood pressure and other vital signs were stable.

Fierro received the heart of a 17-year-old boy in the operation that required less than two hours, believed to be a record for this type of surgery. Dr. Cooley said the actual connecting of the donor heart in the recipient required only 30 minutes.

The donor was Hubert Brumgard Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brumgard of nearby Pasadena, Tex. The youth died of a brain hemorrhage.

S.S. Kresge Stockholders Vote Stock Split

DETROIT (AP) — Shareholders of S. S. Kresge Co. Wednesday approved a 3-for-1 stock split, effective at the close of business June 3, and H. G. Cunningham, chairman and president, reported record earnings for the fiscal quarter ended April 30.

Kresge stock closed at $90.75 a share Tuesday on the New York Stock Exchange. The company operates variety stores and K-Mart department stores in the United States and Canada.

Directors approved a quarterly dividend of 25.5 cents per share, payable June 14 to stockholders of record June 3. This would be equal to 8.5 cents after the split.

Cunningham reported profits for the quarter ended April 30 were $7.8 million, or 69 cents a share on the 11.3 million shares outstanding, in the similar 1967 quarter, profits were $3.9 million or 35 cents a share. Sales were $336.3 million, compared with $263.5 million.

In authorizing a three-for-one split, Kresge stockholders cut the par value per share from $5 to $1.66 2/3 and raised the authorization from 20 million to 60 million shares.

Final Week For 'Y' Camp Applications

The Y.M.C.A. announced today that this will be the final week for accepting summer camp counselor applications. The "Y" plans to announce its staff for the entire camping program next week.

Concerning registration for campers, the camp is filling up well ahead of schedule, and parents are urged to register their children as soon as possible to be sure of a place.

The Y.M.C.A. summer resident camp will participate in a camping study undertaken by Pennsylvania State University. The study will be limited to only the 10-12 year old campers. The purpose of the study is to determine what social values are gained by camping. To measure these values, a camp situation-response test will be given to the campers both when they arrive at Camp Onyasha and just before they leave.

Gold Price Takes Big Drop

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold took its largest drop Wednesday since the free market opened in London April 1. The abrupt fall registered a low temperature in international monetary affairs.

After climbing steadily for almost two months to a peak of $42.60 an ounce in London, the price began falling back Tuesday and plunged to a closing price Wednesday at $41.55. Prices in Zurich and Frankfurt moved downward in line. The Paris gold market was closed because of the French political crisis, which now is being disregarded by gold speculators.

Dealers were confident that the gold market had passed its current peak and was on a downward swing. How long it would last no one would predict. But demand for gold definitely fell off, indicating that hoarders had stopped switching from cash into gold. At the same time, some of the big speculators who bought heavily during the gold rush earlier this year, unloaded their holdings for a profit.

Sheffield Firemen Attend Fire School

Rescue Hose Co. of Sheffield took part last weekend in the fourth annual tri-county fire school held at Smethport. Over 300 volunteer firemen from 48 departments took part. They were given lessons by a staff of 18 state accredited instructors. The school is sponsored by the Tri-county Firemen's Association comprised of Cameron, Elk, McKean and Potter counties.

Arson Suspected In Dormitory Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University authorities suspecting arson, began an immediate investigation into a high-rise dormitory fire which killed one coed and injured 15 others Wednesday.

Pamela Sue Patterson, 18, a freshman from Ludlow Falls, Ohio, died of smoke inhalation a few hours after the pre-dawn fire. Two other coeds are in University Hospital in serious condition.

The fire broke out on the 11th floor—which houses 70 coeds—in the 24-story Lincoln Tower occupied by upwards of 1,000 students. Many of them fled the building in night clothes.

University Vice President Gordon B. Carson said "Arson is possible." The investigation was under direction of the state fire marshal's office.

Bill Proposes $28 Million Referendum To Establish Vietnam Veterans' Bonus

HARRISBURG (AP) — Thirty-eight Senators from both parties introduced a bill Wednesday proposing a $28 million referendum in November to establish a Vietnam veterans' bonus in Pennsylvania.

Legislative conferees on the teachers' salary bill, meanwhile, were unable to prepare a final report to submit to the House and Senate and tentatively scheduled another meeting for Thursday.

The bonus bill, with Sen. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, as the prime sponsor, would award every Pennsylvania veteran $25 for each month he served in Vietnam, up to a maximum of $750.

The bill also proposes a flat $1,000 payment to the beneficiary of any state serviceman killed in Vietnam.

Bell said it was the first piece of legislation introduced under the new constitutional provision adopted last month providing for direct state borrowing without the time-consuming process of first adopting a constitutional amendment — a process that takes at least two years.

While the teacher salary conferees were pictured as being fairly well set on a bill in the neighborhood of $42-to-$44 million, one obvious requisite remained lacking.

That was assurances from the Senate Republicans that would accept a report calling for more than the $36 million they proposed in a bill they passed two months ago.

Senate Education Chairman Preston B. Davis, R-Northumberland, a conferee, said the matter was not discussed at Wednesday's caucus. The delay appeared to rule out any prospect of a report being submitted this week.

The Senate, which met in solo session, was 2½ hours late in getting started and ran through its calendar in 25 minutes.

In major action, the Senate adopted a conference committee report that would prohibit automobile insurance companies from arbitrarily cancelling coverage for reasons of race, national origin, age, sex, and profession, among others.

The measure goes to Gov. Shafer.

The Senate also adopted a conference report proposing creation of a 12-member citizens' committee to recommend reforms to the General Assembly.

The committee would have to submit a written report to the legislature by Dec. 1.

The resolution must be approved by the House, which will not reconvene until Monday, before the committee is selected.

The Senate also approved a three-bill package proposing to make it a felony for turning in false alarms, interfering with firemen in the performance of their duties, and unlawfully possessing a grenade.

The Senate returns at 11 a.m. Thursday.

H. Rap Brown Draws Five Year Sentence

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Black Power militant H. Rap Brown drew a five year prison sentence and a $2,000 fine Wednesday night after a biracial federal court jury convicted him of violating the National Firearms Act.

U.S. Dist. Judge Lansing L. Mitchell imposed maximum punishment after defense attorney William M. Kunstler of New York City pleaded for leniency for "the sake of America."

Notice of appeal was filed. Brown, 24, controversial chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, remained free under $10,000 bond pending the appeal.

The federal act involved in the trial, which lasted nine days, forbids anyone under a felony indictment to transport a gun across state lines.

Brown had been indicted in Maryland Aug. 14, 1967, two days before he traveled from New York City to Baton Rouge, La., and back with an M-1 carbine in his luggage.

The jury of three men and nine women found Brown innocent of the first count of the two-count indictment—but convicted on the second. The verdict came after 8½ hours of deliberation.

Brown, 24, is the controversial chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. He sat stolidly as the verdict was read.

The second count of the indictment was based on Brown's return flight to New York Aug. 18. Maximum punishment under the law is five years prison and a $2,000 fine.

An appeal is planned by the defense.

Goldman Buys Bellefontaine Radio Station

The sale of Radio Station WOHP, Bellefontaine, Ohio to Simon Goldman has been announced by Blackburn and Company, Inc., national media brokers, which handled the transaction.

Goldman is president of the Goldman Group of stations which includes radio stations WJTN and WJTN-FM, Jamestown, N.Y.; WDOE, Dunkirk, N.Y.; WGGO, Salamanca, N.Y.; WWYN and WWFM, Erie and WYMT, Burlington, Vt.

Raymond Kandel is president of Hi-Point Broadcasting Company which is a subsidiary of "2580" Newport Corporation; the latter owns radio stations WERT-AM and FM in Van Wert, Ohio; WKLC-AM and FM, St. Albans, W. Va.; WVVA, Gallup, N.M.; KTUC and KTMN-FM, Tucson, Ariz. The company also has applications for UHF television stations in Marion, Ohio and Anderson, Ind.

WOHP is a 500 watt daytime station at 1390 on the dial. The station, in Logan County, serves a six county area in midwestern Ohio. The area lists annual retail sales of $165,243.

Bellefontaine, center of tool and metal furniture industries, is near Indian Lake, one of Ohio's major resort areas.

Ludlow Man Arrested Here

A 23-year-old Ludlow man has been charged with immoral and improper conduct following his arrest by Borough Police Sgt. Edward Peterson.

Arrested was Claude E. Erickson, Main street, Ludlow. The charge stemmed from an incident which allegedly occurred April 21 about 8 a.m. on Pennsylvania avenue E.

Police stated a woman, who experienced car trouble, got out of the vehicle and Erickson is alleged to have stopped and made indecent remarks.

Erickson was released on $500 cash bail following preliminary arraignment before Police Justice Martha Lawson.

Just as a house is not a home without people, a large well equipped building is not a hospital without people caring for people. The modern hospital has people in 200 different occupations caring for people, directly or indirectly.

Parousia Now!

WASHINGTON—Are you feeling left out during the spring social upheavals? Does life seem gray and drab because you have no cause to riot, demonstrate, march, strike, confront or sit-in for? Are you one of those drab millions who sit home nights asking, "but what in the world do they want?" while others are out burning cities, marching on the establishment, strangling France, and rifling the college president's mail?

If you're like most people who have not taken part in an upheaval, you probably feel pretty much out of things. What is worse, by having nothing to do but ask, "but what in the world do they want?" You have probably convinced yourself that, whatever it is, it is up to you to give it to them.

If so, sulking no more. Ker. vi. Lahart, editor of a Chicago-based magazine called "Parousia Now!" has been thinking about people precisely like you, and he has come up with a cause that offers absolutely everybody a chance to enjoy the action.

Lahart is demanding nothing less than Parousia Now! "Parousia Now!" as he calls his campaign, is aimed at eliminating whatever ails anybody.

As he explains it, "there are four choices open to men of the Twentieth Century: (1) more of the same old stuff, (2) more of the same old stuff, only worse; (3) cop out; (4) Parousia Now! The first three are unacceptable. Parousia Now! is the only viable alternative."

In an open letter "to those responsible for the way things are," among whom he includes the President, Congress, General Motors and God, Lahart makes it clear that Parousia Now! is no moderate liberal movement to be co-opted by the power elite.

"We, the undersigned," his manifesto declares, "are sick and tired of cloudy skies, racial hatred, the war in Southeast Asia, rats, white backlash, repressive legislation, recording-star senators, inept politicians, air and water pollution, dirty fish and meat, television radiation, discrimination, cruelty to animals, all mistreatment of people everywhere, faulty automobiles, high insurance rates, the gold drain, urban renewal, most advertising, existentialism, essentialism, analogism, pop art, unporn art, the New York Times layout, dirty books, used-car salesmen, etcetera."

Membership in Parousia Now! is open to all who are sick and tired of the way things are and thereby gives everyone a chance to become a social upheavist. No longer will you be confined to asking of other upheavist movements, "but what in the world do they want?"

The defect of the movement, of course, is that being all inclusive, there may be nobody left to ask the question of you when you are throwing cobbles at a rainy weekend. And what, you may ask, is the point of throwing cobbles if there is going to be nobody to tell -- preferably on television -- what you really want?

A good question, too, and one to which Amos Gigot, leader of the radical militant orbital justice movement addressed himself when he rejected Parousia Now! as a meaningful protest experience. Gigot has produced a movement radical enough to repel what he calls "the sunshine upheavist."

In brief, the orbital justice movement seeks to redress the injustice which placed the earth's orbit closer to the sun than the orbit of Mars. Since Mars, being farther from the sun, takes 687 days to complete a full orbit, he notes, people on earth have been consistently foisted off with a short-ration year.

Men should have a voice in making decisions that control their lives, Gigot insists. They have been denied this voice in the decision about where their orbit should be, he contends, and have thus been forced to meet Christmas bills and income-tax deadlines twice as often as they would have had to had they been given a Democratic choice of the Martian orbit.

Lahart insists that the orbital justice movement falls well within the goals of Parousia Now!, but Gigot has refused to confine himself to the non-violent techniques of Parousia Now! (stamping the feet and holding the breath.)

Gigot, instead, calls for tearing down the earth unless the President orders it moved into Mars' orbit. It is widely hoped that he will permit himself to be co-opted by Parousia Now! before his ideas spread to France.

THE HARRIS SURVEY

By LOUIS HARRIS

In the first nationwide survey to be taken after the Indiana and Nebraska primaries, Sen. Robert Kennedy has improved his standing as a potential Democratic nominee. Sen. Eugene McCarthy has slipped. But Vice President Hubert Humphrey runs a stronger race than either of the two primary contestants. From May 16-18, Harris Survey interviewers conducted a panel reinterview among a nationwide cross section of voters who had been surveyed earlier. The results represent real changes in the opinion of the voters surveyed three weeks earlier. In both cases, each voter was called upon in person in his home.

Here are the highlights of this latest survey:
—As a result of his primary victories, Kennedy has gained 4 points on Richard Nixon and now leads the former Vice President 42 to 40 per cent, with George Wallace receiving 13 per cent. However, Kennedy still trails Gov. Nelson Rockefeller 36 to 41 per cent, with Wallace at 17 per cent.

—Since his primary losses, McCarthy now is behind both Nixon and Rockefeller. Three weeks ago, he was 3 points ahead of Nixon, but now he trails the former Vice President 39 to 40 per cent, with Wallace receiving 14 per cent. McCarthy lost to Rockefeller by 2 points earlier and now is behind by 3.

—Vice President Humphrey was ahead of both Rockefeller and Nixon three weeks ago and has improved his position slightly, even though he has not been involved in the primaries. He has widened his 2-point margin over Nixon to 4 points in this latest test. Against Rockefeller, Humphrey's edge has gone from 2 to 3 points.

—The vote for George Wallace remains a significant 14 to 19 per cent, with no perceptible slippage. In these latest tests, the number of undecided voters declined.

This latest reading was taken at the midpoint in the primary election campaigns, with Indiana and Nebraska concluded but with Oregon, California and South Dakota yet to be held. Prior to the Indiana primary, Kennedy had gone into a deep slump in the national polls. From a position of front runner among the Democrats, he slipped to losing to both Nixon and Rockefeller. The Kennedy strategy of gaining momentum by a series of primary victories appears to be working to some degree.

The reverse appears to be the case with Sen. McCarthy. His setbacks in Indiana and Nebraska appear to have put at least a temporary damper on his candidacy. Humphrey's strategy of not entering the primaries appears to be working well for the moment. However, it remains to be seen if Humphrey can hold his position as the strongest Democrat should Kennedy win the remaining primaries.

On the Republican side, Rockefeller continues to demonstrate that he is a potentially stronger candidate than Nixon with the entire electorate. But still open to question is whether he is enough stronger to convince GOP delegates that he ought to be their nominee in August. Some will point to the fact that Rockefeller trails Humphrey by a slightly wider margin now than he did three weeks ago.

The cross section panel was asked:
"Suppose the race for President this year is among Vice President Hubert Humphrey (Sen. Robert Kennedy, Sen. Eugene McCarthy) for the Democrats, Richard Nixon for the Republicans and former Gov. George Wallace as an independent. If you had to choose right now, who would you vote for—Humphrey (Kennedy, McCarthy), Nixon or Wallace?"

The cross section was also asked:
"Suppose the race for President this year is among Vice President Hubert Humphrey (Sen. Robert Kennedy, Sen. Eugene McCarthy) for the Democrats, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for the Republicans and former Gov. George Wallace as an independent. If you had to choose right now, who would you vote for—Humphrey (Kennedy, McCarthy), Rockefeller or Wallace?"

	DEMOCRATS VS. ROCKEFELLER	MID-MAY	LATE APRIL

Rockefeller	38	38
Wallace	19	15
Not sure	8	11

Clearly, these results are likely to be affected by the outcome of the primaries in the next 10 days. The big gainers and losers in the immediate future are likely to be the combatants in the primaries. Up to now, the noncontestants, Humphrey and Rockefeller, have kept their vote in relatively stable fashion.

Pennsylvania's 396-Mile Ditch

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania is going to have a ditch 396 miles long. It'll be four or five feet deep but it won't pose any safety hazards.

The ditch will be filled in with rich Pennsylvania soil embracing a product of modern technology and inventive genius.

Snaking its way from the Delaware River to the Ohio line, the ditch will hold a forearm-thick "communications tube" — a cable capable of carrying 32,400 telephone conversations simultaneously.

The $44 million underground cable project is slated to get under way soon. It is part of a $160 million project of the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and is expected to be completed by 1970. The complete cable will link New York City and Chicago and St. Louis. A. R. Ammon, Long Lines plant manager here in Harrisburg, said the Trans-Pennsylvania cable — completely underground — will be part of the Bell System's program to expand and improve long distance service on its nationwide communications network.

In short, Mr. Ammon said, the coaxial cable project will be of benefit to Pennsylvanians because it will provide expanded long-distance communications facilities through switching centers at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

The Long Lines executive explained that the new facility will provide for growth through 1973 of long distance telephone service to residence, business and government customers, carrying telephone, teletypewriter, private line, data and television service.

Known as a 20-tube coaxial, the cable derives its name from the arrangement of 20 pencil-thin copper conductors, assembled in sunburst fashion.

Big Money in Politics

WASHINGTON—The most important thing to watch in elections today is the increasing power of money. It's become so you must be a millionaire or have the backing of big business or big labor to run for public office.

This column has spent a good many years exposing the influence of money in politics, ranging from the campaign money-raising dinners of Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., to the backdoor contributions of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., and Rep. Parnell Thomas, R-N.J. Some of these gentlemen went to jail, including Thomas, Howard Brehm, R-Ohio, Ernest Bramblett, R-Calif., Andrew May, D-Ky., and former Governor of Louisiana, Richard Leche, with some of his associates in the "Second Louisiana Purchase."

Directly or indirectly, these had to do with money in politics; sometimes with the fundraising efforts of candidates who were not millionaires.

The problem is still there. The current election once again is witnessing how big money plays a big part in influencing votes. The candidate who has, gets. The candidate who doesn't have, either puts himself in hock, or loses.

To focus attention on this unfair system we would like to propose that the Pulitzer Prize winners of recent years form a committee to investigate big campaign spending. Having never won a Pulitzer and having no expectation of winning one, neither I nor Jack Anderson can serve on that committee. But we will be delighted to feed it information from the sidelines.

The winners of Pulitzer Prizes have an obligation to society. They were chosen for this high award because they followed in the tradition of Joseph Pulitzer in exposing wrong, in crusading for justice. They should continue in that tradition, not be content to rest on their laurels.

The problem of big money in politics is one which goes to the very roots of democracy. It completely nullifies the tradition taught in our schoolbooks that the boy born in a log cabin or on the farm can go to the White House.

We should not have to rewrite our schoolbooks to make them read: "Yes, he can go to the White House—if he marries a millionairess, if he becomes the idol of big business, if he becomes the servant of labor, or if he finagles, begs, borrows or steals several million dollars for campaign funds."

There was a time when the Senate investigated their problems and acted with courage. When William Vare, the Republican boss of Pennsylvania, ran against his fellow Republican, George Wharton Pepper, in 1926 and spent

Who Can Afford It?

WASHINGTON — It has been predicted that the peace talks in Paris will go on for a very, very long time. Both the North Vietnamese and the United States claim to have won the war, and it's very hard to get either side to give in on any points when the other believes he is talking to a loser.

The only thing that could speed up the talks and bring about some sort of a solution is the fact the discussions are being held in Paris. At the going rate for hotels and food, the real question is, which side can hold out the longest without going broke?

A spokesman told me, "We had a setback the first week when Ambassador Cyrus Vance ordered breakfast in his room, and it almost wiped out the entire U.S. peace talk budget. But Vance is now taking his breakfast in the American Embassy mess and we should be on our feet in a couple of weeks."

"Isn't Ambassador Averell Harriman still eating breakfast at the Crillon?"

"Ambassador Harriman has a personal fortune of $50 million. If he eats breakfast at the Crillon, that's his own business. Of course, if the conference continues through the summer, there may not be much of the $50 million left, and then he'll have to eat breakfast at the embassy mess like everybody else."

"There have been rumors," I said, "that the United States may halt the bombing of North Vietnam unconditionally when the American delegation's first laundry bill comes in. Is there any truth to it?"

"None whatsoever. We have a special contingency fund for laundry as well as pressing, and we can always get a supplemental appropriation from Congress in case we run out. I would like to say there has been far too much emphasis on what this conference is costing the Americans. The North Vietnamese are hurting, too. They thought they could come to Paris and stay at the Hotel Lutetia on the Left Bank, but after only a week they had to move out. If this doesn't indicate a weakening of their position, I don't know what does."

"But isn't the French government picking up the Hanoi delegation's tab?"

"They were until de Gaulle discovered the North Vietnamese were eating in the hotel restaurant, a la carte. If the Communists hadn't moved out of the city to a house in the country, we might have had an agreement this week on the question of halting North Vietnamese troop infiltration to the south."

"Well, when do you see a break in the conference?"

"When Ho Chi Minh receives the first taxi bill from his delegation in Paris. It's one thing for them to save on the hotel, but they're still going to have to spend money getting to and from the conference hall."

"One of the news commentators said he thought a great deal more progress could be made if talks were adjourned to the Crazy Horse Saloon in Paris where they have an excellent strip tease show."

"This was discussed," my informant said "but it was rejected the first day when both parties agreed they couldn't afford the cover charge."

Biting The Bullet On Taxes

(c) N. Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — The genius of American politics has been its ability to compromise the conflicting needs and desires of the great variety of interest groups that make up so huge and diverse a nation.

The best kind of compromise, of course, is one that meets the vernacular ideal of "splitting the difference." Since the difference between six and four is inevitably two, splitting it produces a compromise figure of five.

This is elementary — apparently too elementary for Congress and President Johnson in their dispute over whether a $10 billion tax increase is worth $4 billion or $6 billion in reduced federal spending. As it now appears, Johnson's insistence on the lower figure and congressional demands for the higher may mean that nothing at all will be done through tax policy to stabilize the economy and the dollar and improve the imbalance of payments.

This deadlock is the crowning futility in a series that began in 1956 with Johnson's reluctance to seek a tax increase when it was most needed, and continued last year with Congress's refusal to act when the President finally made the necessary request.

When congressional potentates like Chairman Mills of the Ways and Means Committee did agree to a tax increase — partially because they conceded the danger in a $25 billion budget deficit, and partially because they finally believed they could get the votes to pass the measure — the bill they worked out in a House-Senate conference also attempted to force a $6 billion reduction in federal spending for fiscal 1969.

This move could not be surmounted by bookkeeping tricks or figure juggling, because a cut in expenditures is just that; it is not at all the same thing as a cut in appropriations. A ceiling on expenditures imposed by Congress is a rare thing, although various presidents have refused to spend money appropriated and forced on them by Congress.

Moreover, it is not entirely clear whether Johnson or Mills & Co. are to choose the programs for cutting. The President laid on the lash at his last news conference, demanding that members so eager to cut expenditures "bite the bullet" and "stand up like men" to vote for the reductions they favor — a prospect no member welcomes in an election year.

More importantly, however, Johnson all but ruled out a $6 billion spending cut and — despite his pleas for a tax increase — has refused to endorse the pending measure (which is to come to a vote early in June).

The President believes that little or no reduction in expenditures is needed and that the $10 billion tax increase would be a sufficient restraint on the economy. He has reluctantly agreed to accept a $4 billion cut, but has protested strongly that anything beyond that is impossible.

Meanwhile, many mayors, governors, unions, liberal leaders and organizations like the influential urban coalition has lined up behind Johnson's $4 billion position, convinced that most of the spending cuts would be made in the social programs they consider vital.

This is probably true, and no doubt many of those most loudly demanding the $6 billion cut are a lot more interested in restricting these programs than they are in a sound economy or the balance of payments.

But no one denies the imperative need for the tax increase, the loss of which would directly imperil the financial stability of the United States and thus of the world. In a budget approaching $200 billion, can the difference in $4 billion and $6 billion be so crucial?

If so, the next step might well be to split the difference. It is really not conceivable that a mere $1 billion in expenditures could be so important to either side that a crucial tax bill must be lost for want of it. One way or another, it is long past time for both sides to bite the bullet.

"When Ho Chi Minh receives the first taxi bill from his delegation in Paris. It's one thing for them to save on the hotel, but they're still going to have to spend money getting to and from the conference hall."

"One of the news commentators said he thought a great deal more progress could be made if talks were adjourned to the Crazy Horse Saloon in Paris where they have an excellent strip tease show."

"This was discussed," my informant said "but it was rejected the first day when both parties agreed they couldn't afford the cover charge."

"Well, when do you see a break in the conference?"

"When Ho Chi Minh receives the first taxi bill from his delegation in Paris. It's one thing for them to save on the hotel, but they're still going to have to spend money getting to and from the conference hall."

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY JR.

Appalled at Charles de Gaulle

If it weren't so serious—as the saying goes—one would be tempted into just a little fugitive satisfaction at the detumescence of his imperial authority. Let's face it, human beings being, unfortunately, human, it is satisfying to a part of one's nature to see General de Gaulle's enormous nose being rubbed into his apparent inability to govern his own country.

We have been on the receiving end of many many strictures about our own shortcomings. We are constantly being told that we cannot bring peace and good government to Vietnam—by a French president who cannot apparently bring peace and satisfactory government to his own country. Granted, the French people are very nearly an ungovernable race, as any student of modern European history will recognize. It is a part of their vaunted GLOIRE that President de Gaulle has made so much of.

It may be that France only works as a stumblebum democracy, the kind of thing that went on during the thirties and fifties (during the forties, there was a period of repose under Pétain), or under Napoleonic rule, and nothing in between. But unless we are prepared to give way to such hopelessness, we have got to get together and pitch for Charles de Gaulle.

What happened? Surely, the salient question is, What didn't happen? Vietnam.

In this country, parts of which have certainly given way to unreason, explosions tend to be campus-size, or even city-size. It has become the fashion to blame them on the Vietnam war. The litany has it that the war produced a great division among the people, which produced that general anomie which produced the alienated class, which joins with the dispossessed whose problems—education, housing, health—we are incapable of solving because of our financial and moral preoccupation with Vietnam. All our distresses are laid to war in Vietnam.

And, of course in France, Charles de Gaulle took the position concerning the war which is popular with the left. He denounced the war, America's participation in it. He went further, and appealed the French left and his own vanity by kicking the Atlantic Pact nations out of France. He denied England access to the Common Market on the explicit grounds that England is too closely related to the United States. He received Communist dignitaries from foreign lands and toasted their health and their governments.

And the left has now paralyzed France.

It is tempting to say that the left is only a factor in the paralysis, that deep discontents which are not under the control of the left, have suddenly been unleashed. It is true that there are such discontents, but it is true also that there always have been, and very likely that there always will be, it being part human, and especially French, to be hyper-critical of whatever is going on, with the exception of public love affairs.

The fact of the matter is that the crisis is national only because the hard, disciplined left is behind it. The overpowering large General Confederation of Labor is Communist dominated, and it has voted for a general strike. The left students are probably no more representative of the majority than the students who closed down Columbia University. The left parties in the Assembly have moved for censure of the government. De Gaulle is a constant stimulant to one's iconoclastic hormones, but, really, he is from the theoretical point of view of the left, very nearly exemplary. In foreign policy, splendid. In domestic policy, he can be mildly faulted for continuing to believe in a free market place, for enduring progressive capitalism, and for tolerating his economics adviser M.

Rueff. But there is a certain amount of capitalism going on in Russia herself, and the Kremlin tolerates its Liebermans. There is no doubting his personal capacity to govern: he is admirably trained, and speaks a most elegant French. What else? Even so, the left demands revaluation.

I write these words before the great appearance he is due to make on Friday. I predict that he will overcome.

And recall William von Dreele's doggerel. . . .

Je suis appalled at Charles de Gaulle
I do not dig his gloire at all.
I think the force de frappe a fraud
La Russie's hardly overawed.
I worry when he mentions "moi".
The overtones suggest le Roi.
However, though de Gaulle's de trop
They day he'll move to Fontainebleau
I'd like to borrow his esprit
To stiffen les Etats-Unis.

Steelworkers In Best Shape Financially

WASHINGTON (AP) — President I.W. Abel says his United Steelworkers Union is in its best shape ever financially, despite the long, expensive copper strike.

Abel leads his 480,000 members in basic steel into industry-wide negotiations June 3. The contract expires Aug. 1.

The union assessed a special $5 a head, three-month levy in March to build a war chest and replace the $8 million depleted by the nine-month copper strike.

"We hope we don't have to use it," said Abel in an interview. He said money won't even figure into any strike or no-strike decision.

"We've never had a defense fund before," he said. In previous strikes "we just did it on nerve."

"We're entering negotiations in the best shape ever," he said.

The basic steel workers now earn $3.83 an hour, according to union estimates. They're expected to settle for no less than a 6.1 per cent raise.

Rocky Says Administration Shows Leadership Failures

DETROIT — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Wednesday that the Johnson administration had shown "grave failures of leadership" in meeting the nation's economic problems.

The New York Republican said that recent inflationary pressures cutting into purchasing power may have done more to harm low-income persons than "the so-called great society" has helped.

The governor's remarks, contained in a 3,300-word statement on the nation's economy, portions of which he read to a luncheon of the Economic Club of Detroit, marked the first direct criticism of the Johnson administration since Rockefeller became an active candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

He proposed the following steps to "restore confidence in our dollar and check our inflation":

— A halt in "the habitual rise in public spending" with "a rigorous review of the priorities controlling federal programs."

— Enactment of "a temporary increase in income taxes at least as large as the 10 per cent across-the-board surcharge suggested by the administration."

— A "review of U.S. commitments around the world" because "the record of our balance of payments deficits shows that we cannot do all we might like."

— Avoidance of "further controls and regulations, both domestically and internationally."

In discussing the deficit in the nation's balance of payments, the drain on its gold reserve and international confidence in the dollar, Rockefeller said: "The situation is, in my opinion, far more serious than people realize."

The 2,700 persons at the luncheon in Cobo Hall on Detroit's waterfront interrupted the governor six times with applause.

The root causes of our trouble are not mysterious," Rockefeller said in his text. "We are overspending. And we are undertaxing."

He said that with the increased costs of the war in Vietnam and the war on poverty at home, the administration "ignored" the need for new taxes for two years and then acted "belatedly" in seeking a 10 per cent surcharge on corporate and individual income taxes.

Rockefeller did not read this portion of his text at the luncheon. He said he was reading only an abbreviated version since he was speaking to a group already familiar with the problems, but declared that he stood by his prepared statement.

Rockefeller's political mission to Detroit was to confer with Gov. George Romney and with the 48-vote Michigan delegation to the Republican National Convention, which is expected to support Romney as a favorite son on the first ballot. The New York Governor said he had not received, nor sought, a commitment of support from Romney.

Cuyahoga River Said Worst Polluter of Lake Erie

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania official said Wednesday that the Cuyahoga River at Cleveland, Ohio, is the worst polluter of Lake Erie.

Walter Lyon, head of the sanitary engineering division of the Pennsylvania department of health, classed the river as "the major source of pollution in Lake Erie."

Lyon commented while on a charter flight that toured the lake and Western Pennsylvania. A group of 37, including members of the President's Water Pollution Control Advisory Board, made the water pollution tour.

Lyon said the flight corroborated visually chemical findings that showed that raw water taken from the lake near Erie was cleaner than water samples taken near Ohio cities. He said the Erie water samples have been improving in cleanliness for the past five years.

Everett Zurn, a board member, said the flight showed that pollution problems in Ohio were not being effectively dealt with and recommended federal action if an investigation revealed Ohio cities and firms were not complying with the state's clean water standards.

In the area of Conneaut, Ash-tabula and Cleveland, all in Ohio, Zurn said the water was colored brown, green and red and there were floating gobs of foam, apparently suds from insoluble detergents.

Board Chairman Of Murphy Co. Dies

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (AP)—James Stephen Mack, president and board chairman of G. C. Murphy Co., is dead.

Mack, 54, son of the variety store chain's co.-founder, died Tuesday of a ruptured artery leading to the heart.

Mack had undergone surgery for another ruptured artery and a related hepatitis condition recently and was recuperating in his Homer City home when the latest attack occurred.

He died in McKeesport Hospital.

Mack had been president since 1953 and board chairman since 1962.

Negro Group Calls For Principal's Resignation

WILKINSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A Negro group is calling for the resignation of Wilkinsburg high school principal W. P. Lohr in the wake of a demonstration that closed the school Tuesday.

Classes resumed without incident Wednesday after the borough's school board met with the group, which calls itself the Black Parents of Wilkinsburg.

Paul Nelson, spokesman for the group, said, "We feel that Lohr has shown bigotry, bias and a lack of response to the needs and feelings of the black children."

Sophomore Terrie Griffin, 17,

told the board that students would like Negro counselors because white counselors tended to refer Negro students to southern Negro colleges. White counselors, she said, did not advise Negro students of all scholarship opportunities.

James Fitzpatrick, another 17-year-old sophomore, said Negro students would like equal rights with white students in school activities. He said the school held a memorial service for two white students killed in an automobile accident last year. But, he said, a service was not held for a Negro student killed in a car accident last month.

The group asked for Lohr's resignation by the end of the school term.

The high school has about 300 Negro pupils out of a total enrollment of 1,200.

Some 1,100 persons, both children and parents, attended the meeting.

The school board did not comment on the demands.

Youngsville Fire Chief Explains Need and Plans for New Fire Hall

Youngsville Fire Chief Lee Stiller explained the needs and plans for a new fire hall to be built this summer to serve Brokenstraw Valley to Youngsville Kiwanians Tuesday night.

Stiller, speaking in the Lutheran Church social rooms at the regular meeting of the club, said the present building is crowded and inadequate. The new facility, he said, will have five bays, one for each truck plus social rooms adequate for department needs that will also be available for other organizations.

The building will be located on the former athletic field donated to the fire department by the school system. The entrance will be on East Main street through a driveway purchased by the firemen. The addition to Youngsville area is being built and equipped through donations without any tax support.

Firemen, Stiller advised, have devoted much time and effort in planning and raising funds for the proposed facility.

Following the meeting Kiwanians spent the rest of the evening readying equipment for the June 15 chicken barbecue at Island Park. Tickets were distributed by chairman Kenneth Franklin.

4 Escape Death in Plane Crash

CALHAN, Colo. (AP) — Four persons, including a Pittsburgh woman, escaped death in the crash of a single engine plane.

The Piper Cherokee went down in rolling farm country near Calhan late Tuesday about 30 minutes after it took off from Fort Morgan on a flight to Pueblo.

Mrs. Isabell M. Tenos, 55, of Pittsburgh was treated at a hospital for a cut above the eye, then was released.

Sister Karen A. Jilg, 26, a nun who teaches at Mount Carmel School in Pueblo, was hospitalized after complaining of back and abdominal pains.

Escaping unhurt were the pilot, Henry Bollinger, a social worker at Colorado State Hospital in Pueblo; and the Rev. William Griglak, a Roman Catholic priest.

Reagan Blasts Dem. National Defense Record

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan wound up a four-state Republican presidential pulse-taking tour Wednesday with a blast at the Democratic national defense record.

He called it a "sorry 7 1/2-year stewardship of security."

In an address prepared for a $150-a-plate GOP fund-raising dinner, the unannounced candidate said:

"The Kennedy-Johnson-Humphrey administration has increased defense spending to a rate of $75 billion a year and all it has to show for it is the longest and first wholly inconclusive war in the history of the United States and a political airplane that won't fly."

Reagan arrived at Cleveland's Burke Lakefront Airport from Chicago after a stop in Columbus where he was greeted by Gov. James A. Rhodes, Ohio's uncommitted favorite son and top party leader.

Rhodes flew to Cleveland in a separate plane to introduce Reagan at the banquet. Backers said ticket sales exceeded 2,300—more than the ballroom capacity at the Cleveland Sheraton Hotel.

Reagan told the diners that the reasons for administration failures were not hard to find.

"A floundering of purpose has all too often been marked with a loss of nerve," he said.

Reagan said things were different a few years back under President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"Twice during the eight years when Eisenhower directed the strategy," Reagan said, "menacing Soviet movements against Berlin were disposed of without the callup of a single reinforcement, simply by a show of calm, unwavering resolution."

Medwick Blames Hitters For Low Batting Marks

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It's a shame, people say, how the pitchers have taken over the game and killed offense in baseball. But Joe "Ducky" Medwick thinks the hitters have only themselves to blame.

And Medwick can talk. First, because he has the hitting credential to back himself up. Secondly, because the St. Louis Cardinals pay him to talk to their minor league farmhands about the fine and fading art of hitting.

"They say you can't make a hitter," the one-time Most Valuable Player said. "But I disagree. If you take a guy that has the desire and wants to be great, and if he has some tools, it'll come out."

Medwick, 56, is the Cardinals' minor league batting instructor and he says if there's anything he wants to get across to his pupils it's the level swing.

"You work on getting the level swing and when they get that the home runs will take care of themselves," the lifetime .325-hitter said. I think now you have boys in the minor leagues, especially in the Cardinals organization, who are better prepared than ever before to handle all situations."

But what about the hitters in the majors whose averages are plunging lower than the pitchers' earned run averages?

"They have only themselves to blame; that's exactly right," Medwick commented. "They know what to do, but they're not doing it. They should be hitting semiautomatic."

"In other words," and Medwick stood up to demonstrate, "Stay with the short stride, don't swing from your backside. That way you keep the ball in front of you. All these hitters are swinging from their backsides and that's why you have so many strikeouts today."

"But look at Curt Flood. It hasn't affected him because he realized this. And look at Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He's swinging from his backside and doing nothing. He's got to get back his normal swing if he's going to do anything."

Medwick, voted into baseball's Hall of Fame recently, played 17 years in the majors, mostly with the Cardinals, between 1932 and 1948. During this span he had 2,471 hits.

Champ Denis Hulme Flies the World

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — New Zealander Denis Hulme, world road racing champion last year, is shrinking earth to auto tire size.

Flying vast distances to race is old helmet to the international speed crowd. But Hulme is making it ridiculous.

The Grand Prix champion will fly 35,544 miles this month to race fewer than 1,000 miles on the ground.

He didn't plan all of it. An extra Atlantic crossing will be necessary because he failed to qualify his Eagle-Ford last weekend to earn a spot in the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30.

Hulme has to qualify in Monte Carlo this week, probably Thursday, for the Monaco Grand Prix next Sunday, then rush back for the final Indianapolis time trials and take off in mid-afternoon Saturday for another flight to Monaco.

Hulme's home is in Tauranga, New Zealand, but he races out of Surbiton, Surrey, England. His program this month was the Grand Prix of Spain May 5, won by Graham Hill of England; the Monaco Grand Prix May 26 and the Indy 500 May 30.

The events at Madrid and Monte Carlo are a little more than 200 miles long.

The New Zealander's flying month will be London-Indianapolis-Madrid-Indianapolis-Monte Carlo-Indianapolis-England.

The late Jimmy Clark of Scotland started the super-commuter competition in 1963, racing both on the Grand Prix circuit and at Indianapolis, running a strong second to Parnelli Jones in the 500. He won the 500 in 1965 and probably would have been this year's favorite in a Lotus turbine, but he was killed at Hockenheim, Germany, April 7.

Hulme and Jochem Rindt of Austria flew out of Indianapolis Tuesday night for Monte Carlo by way of Switzerland, because of the French general strike. Hill, Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Calif., and other international drivers had left earlier.

Hulme, only one of the group who failed to qualify at Indianapolis last weekend, was worried about what the French situation might do to his transatlantic commuting next weekend. "Oh well," he sighed. "Perhaps I can rent a plane in London."

Journalism Professor Complicates Baseball

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — While basketball experiments with three officials, a Penn State journalism professor feels it's time for baseball to try something new — and he'll get his wish Friday.

The Nittany Lion baseball team has agreed to test in an intro-squad game the rule devised by Dr. Ivan L. Preston. The professor described his innovation this way:

"When the baserunner is caught he must pay two penalties — he's wiped off the base paths, and his team is charged with an out. My solution is this: charge the offensive team with one penalty."

Preston explained the offensive manager would have two options when one of his runners is tagged out: remove the runner from the base paths with no out being charged; or, take the out, and return the runner to the last base touched safely.

Suppose a batter leads off with a single, Preston said, and then is thrown out attempting to steal second. The offensive manager could take the out and send the runner back to first, or take the runner off the bases, and not be charged with an out. In the latter case, it would be as if the inning started over again.

Kane Wins Beaty Invite; Host Team Finishes 5th

The hungry Kane Wolves stalked Beaty field yesterday afternoon and managed to consume 47 1/3 points to make off with the Beaty Invitational honors. It marked the first time in the six-year history of the meet that the Beaty Jr. High thincads failed to emerge a winner.

Of the eleven junior high schools attending the affair the Knights of Franklin were the closest competitor for the Wolves as they stopped 11 1/2 points off the pace. Youngsville kept local interest by battling their way into the third place post. Warren's entry compiled 20 1/2 points for a fifth place.

Doug Lemon led the Wolves in capturing wins in the 440-yd. dash and running the anchor slot for Kane's medley relay team. His time for the quarter-mile sprint was :58.7 and 2:52.2 was the time for the relay team.

Youngsville had their double winner also when Tom Randinelli gave coach Harvey Shapiro a glimpse of the future in winning the 60-yd. dash and the 100-yd. dash. Randinelli finished a tenth-of-a-second ahead of Craig Petruney of Oil City in the 60-yd. sprint. His time was a swift :07.1. The watches stopped at :11.4 on his century dash.

Eisenhower's Jamie Stewart held the crowd in awed amazement by breaking the old mark of 10 feet in the pole vault. On his last jump the young Knight soared over the 10 foot 4 inch mark. Dave VanOrd gave proof that the future Eisenhower teams will have plenty of depth in this field as he took the runner-up ribbon with a vault of 10 feet.

Rick Freeburg was Warren's sole point winner in the meet by leaping 5 feet 3 inches in the high jump. Although freshman John Bullock of Beaty broke the discus record with a toss of 125 feet 9 1/2 inches, his points weren't figured in on the team total because the discus is not counted as a team event.

Bill Johnson of Kane stunned his opponents in the shot put by heaving the ball 53 feet 4 inches just short of the record. Bruce Randall bounded to a worthy 37 feet 11 inches in the triple jump for a win and placed a close second in the long jump with a leap of 17 feet.

The Warren Sports Boosters provided the ribbons and a trophy for the meet.

Hawles Stays Home

HOBART, Australia (AP) — Tasmania's world record pacer, Halwes, is unlikely to race in the United States, says Charles Williams, one of Halwes' part-owners.

Halwes had been invited to take part in a series of races at Roosevelt Raceway in New York State, Williams, a retired baker and pastry cook, said he and Halwes' other part-owner, Aubrey Westley, were not keen for Halwes to go overseas.

"Wesley and I are comfortably off though not millionaires — and don't need the money offered," Williams said.

"We race Halwes for enjoyment and I certainly have no desire to see him go to the United States. Cash offers for Halwes have been refused because we don't want him to go to America."

Griffith to Fight Harris In Philly Doubleheader

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Plans were announced Wednesday night for a July 8 boxing doubleheader here pitting Emile Griffith against unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris and Johnny Persol against Roger Russell.

Griffith, former welterweight and middleweight champion and Philadelphiaan Harris will meet in a 12-rounder while Persol, of New York, and Russell, of Philadelphia, will meet in a 10-round light heavyweight bout, said veteran promoter Herman Taylor.

Taylor said he was co-promoting the fights with Madison Square Garden Boxing Club, Inc., as championship elimination bouts.

The people at Madison Square Garden have assured me that the winner of the Harris-Griffith fight will face champion Nino Benvenuti in Philadelphia for the world middleweight title and the winner of the Persol-Russell bout will take on the victor of the Dick Tiger-Bob Foster title match — also in Philadelphia," said Taylor.

Taylor said contract signings for the bouts — slated for the Spectrum, which seats 17,000 for boxing — will be held within the next two weeks.

Wattsburg Speedway Opens on May 31

The Wattsburg Speedway opening has been rescheduled for Friday, May 31. Because of weather conditions there has been a delay in the importing of clay and application of anal dressing to the track. Track operators said the delay should insure ideal track conditions unless there is more rain.

Many drivers, new to the track, will be seen in all three divisions, Chuck Vorse, who has appeared in the Sportsman's Class will be driving in late model for the first time this year. Fred Peters and Mike Shatto are among the new drivers.

Jim Sul, a well-known motorcycle driver, will drive for the first time in the late model class. Gene Bomboy will drive a 1968 Dodge Dart, built by Tom Dill.

A new division has been added this year, early models for novice drivers. This includes 1964 model cars and older.

There will be three or four 50-lap feature events during the season. Added attractions include competition between local news media and powder puff derbies. Admission fees include: adult, $1.50; children, 6 to 12, $.50; and children under six, free. Reserved season box seats and reserved general admission will be available. Holders of reserved seats will be entitled to the use of reserved parking space. There will be free parking for all patrons.

Larry Parenter, RD 4, North East, 16428, is track information officer.

Keystone Sports

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Per-tinent question: Did Jim Ringo retire or was he given the Pete Retzlaff treatment by Joe Kuharich of the Philadelphia Eagles? The word from the cat-bird seat is Ringo was all set to play another season at offensive center for the Eagles, but he wasn't offered a contract. And he was told the all-time National Football League great had out-lived his usefulness in pro football. This would seem to answer the question as to why there was no farewell news conference. Ringo apparently didn't want to be placed on the spot answering sports writers' questions which might prove embarrassing to the Easton, Pa., native and the club. He went out with class. Retzlaff, the former star tight end of the Eagles, went out in much the same manner.

MORE TROUBLE— There are some who claim Jim Harding has coached his last basketball game at LaSalle College. Apparently repercussions are being felt from Harding's no-hustle, no scholarship edict to his players last season, and the later public debate over taking away Fran Scott's scholarship after Scott quit the team because of what happened. Latest reports on the Middle Atlantic Conference basketball champions are that current recruiting is going poorly and two members of last year's squad have quit, including Stan Wlodarczyk, the 6-foot-6 center. Wlodarczyk helped fire LaSalle in a late season upset which carried Harding's team into the NCAA tournament. Harding has three years left on a four-year contract and LaSalle officials reportedly are reluctant to buy out the contract. At least one powerful figure in the LaSalle basketball picture has told friends, "It's either him (Harding) or me." If reports are true, Harding hasn't been able to recruit a single outstanding prospect for this fall's freshman team.

SHORT SHORTS — Norm Van Brocklin, former star quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles and ex-head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, is being considered as coach of the College All-Star team for its annual game against the National Football League champions at Soldier Field, Chicago, this summer. The Green Bay Packers represent the NFL this year. And speaking of Van Brocklin, if Jerry Wolman should lose the Eagles because of his financial plight, some believe it would be a master public relations stroke to bring in Van Brocklin as successor to Joe Kuharich, Chris Short, the Philadelphia Phillies' fine left hander, is fourth on the club's all-time list of shutout pitchers with 19. He trails Jim Bunning (23), Robin Roberts (35) and Grover Cleveland Alexander (61).

NFL Players Strike Vote Denied

NEW YORK (AP) — Dan Shulman, labor attorney for the National Football League Players' Association, denied Wednesday the players had taken a strike vote.

The 16 player representatives and several other members of the association, which became a union during the off season, will meet Thursday with a committee of NFL owners.

"We absolutely have not taken a strike vote," said Shulman.

"I have every reason to believe that we will be able to negotiate. We know our side is ready to sit down and talk. Of course, if they turn up their nose at us, we will have to try our case."

Shulman didn't elaborate.

The players are asking for an annual $5 million payment to the pension fund, $500 a game for preseason games and a minimum salary of $15,000.

GOLFING WITH Arnold Palmer

Golf's first Million Dollar P.G.A. Winner

TURN FULL WITH THE SHOULDERS, LESS WITH THE HIPS

Golf is a game in which even a small individual, like 125-lb. Chi Chi Rodriguez, can generate as much power and distance as a hulking 240-lb giant. This is true because a slight, but supple, player may be able to generate a much fuller shoulder turn than can a more muscle-bound behemoth.

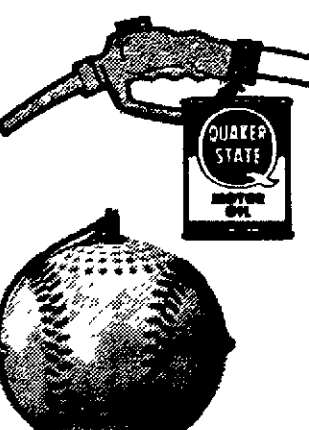

Actually, the secret in generating great power—aside from the all-important matter of timing—lies in producing a very full shoulder turn while minimizing the hip turn.

The illustration shows what I mean. Note my hips have turned only about 40 degrees—less than a quarter turn. However, my shoulders have turned more than 90 degrees. This difference in degree of turn produces a great amount of muscle stretching and coiling (see illustration). When these muscles are released on the downswing, power flows up through the shoulders, down the arms and into the club itself.

Columbia U. Head Prepared To Discipline Students

NEW YORK (AP) — President Grayson Kirk of Columbia University said Wednesday that there is "no likelihood" of amnesty for rebellious students, and that he is prepared to discipline, suspend or expel "any number."

Kirk's statement came at a news conference after the second early morning campus police raid in a month left 56 more persons injured, including 16 policemen.

A student strike coordinating committee scheduled a rally to seek citywide support for the rebellious students, whose month-long protest has resulted in 998 arrests and more than 200 injuries.

Kirk, 64, an expert in political science and one-time diplomat, rejected the students' most pressing demand—amnesty.

"There's no likelihood of granting amnesty," he said. "I think it is important for me to state if disciplinary probation, suspension or even permanent expulsion must be dealt out to any number of students, this action will be taken," he added.

He spoke in a background of new charges and denials of police brutality at the 214-year-old

Ivy League university, which has about 25,000 students.

The latest violence began at 4:25 a.m., when more than 1,000 police clubbed their way through a wave of yelling students who had defied campus demands that the campus be cleared.

"To the barricades!" the students cried.

Moments before the police moved, fireman had put out a series of minor fires without serious damage.

A few hours earlier, police without clubs had peacefully ousted more than a hundred students from a building housing the offices of a dean who had called student leaders on the carpet.

In this operation, police officers ordered their men to handle the students gently. Commenting on the absence of billy clubs, a police spokesman said, "The kids can't holler brutality if we haven't got them."

Mark Rudd, campus leader of the Students for a Democratic Society and one of the leaders of the protest, was suspended with three other students for refusing to report to the dean for a disciplinary hearing. Tension mounted.

TV Films Symbolize Govt. Case Against Spock

BOSTON (AP) — To the peal of organ music in a darkened federal court room Wednesday, several young men were shown burning what were described as their draft cards before the altar of a Boston church.

The television films symbolized the government's case against Dr. Benjamin Spock and four antiwar associates on trial on charges of counseling draft evasion.

Spock was not present in the Arlington Street Unitarian-Universalist Church last Oct. 16 when the cards were burned. The only defendants there were Yale chaplain William Sloan Coffin Jr. and Michael Ferber, a student.

Dr. Coffin was shown shaking hands with one of the youths as he ignited his card from a burning candle and then dropped it with others in a metal receptacle. Ferber delivered a speech during the ceremony entitled, "A Time to Say No" but it was not recorded by the television crew.

The church ceremony is one of the basic acts upon which the government based its indictment against all five defendants.

It claims they were bound together in an illegal conspiracy and that all share responsibility for the antidraft demonstrations in the Arlington Street Church, Judge Francis J.W. Ford so informed the jury.

The background organ music heard on the film was identified by a member of the defense counsel as a hymn entitled "Sheep May Safely Graze."

Earlier, before the courtroom was darkened for the W.B.Z. TV film, the defense made its initial effort to cloak Spock and the others with the protection of the United States Constitution against the government charges.

On the witness stand in U.S. District Court as the trial moved through a third day was FBI agent Lawrence Miller, who infiltrated an antidraft news conference at the New York Hilton Hotel last Oct. 2.

Attorney Edward Barshak, cross examining on behalf of writer Mitchell Goodman, one of Spock's four codefendants, asked about notes that Miller took at the meeting and later enlarged into a formal FBI report.

Q. Is it fair to say these notes are brief reminders so you could dictate your report later?

A. Brief reminders and mental notes.

Q. Is it fair to say these handwritten notes don't include everything that was said at the news conference?

A. Of course not, I don't take shorthand.

Q. You had never done this before, had you?

A. No.

Q. Did he (Goodman) say that he was there in response to his conscientious objection to the war in Vietnam?

A. I would say yes, in substance.

Q. Did you not leave out all reference about his conscientious basis for being there?

A. I would have to say yes.

The defense is basing its case on the First Amendment to the Constitution, contending: "The conduct charged by the indictment constitutes the exercise of the rights of conscience and religion, of speech and of the press, and of the right of the people to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Spock, 65, Goodman, 44; Coffin, 43, Ferber, 23, and Marcus Raskin, 33, a Washington research director, are accused of conspiring knowingly and willfully to counsel, aid and abet young Americans to avoid and evade the draft.

Bandits Get $10,780 From Buffalo Banks

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Bandits struck at two branch banks within 50 minutes Wednesday and obtained a total of $10,780, police said.

One man was arrested seconds after the second holdup and charged with bank robbery.

Inspector Ralph B. Degenhart said a gunman obtained $9,272 at the Jefferson-Landon branch of the Marine Midland Trust Co., on the city's east side, shortly after noon. He fled on foot.

About 50 minutes later, a bandit robbed a branch of the Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co. of $1,508. The bandit was captured outside the branch, in a downtown department store, by two detectives who were in a patrol car, Degenhart said. He said the money was recovered.

He said Alfred D. Miller Jr., 25, of Buffalo was charged with bank robbery.

Underground 'A' Tests Encourage Further Research

(C) N.Y. Times News Service

NEW YORK — Successes in recent underground thermonuclear tests have encouraged a number of American corporations to step up their research in the field of practical, peaceful uses of atomic explosives.

A natural gas company is planning an experiment next year that will make use of nuclear explosives to blast out a subterranean storage basin at less cost than surface tanks.

Nuclear tests have also been proposed to reach hard-to-tap gas in deep rock.

Owners of copper mines are reported to be planning to blast out low-grade deposits with the atom.

And the Atomic Energy Commission is analyzing test data to determine the feasibility of nuclear blasts for excavating harbors, roadways and a possible new Panama Canal.

These were some of the developments in the peaceful uses of atomic energy described here this week at a symposium of engineers, who were participating in New York City's Nuclear Week.

"Our efforts to develop an excavation, or earth-moving technology, utilizing nuclear explosions, appear to be the most glamorous and dramatic part of our entire program," said William L. Oakley, assistant director of the Atomic Energy commission's division of peaceful nuclear explosives.

"It is likely one of these applications may become the first commercially practical use of a nuclear explosion," he added.

By late next year, at the earliest, the Kennecott Copper Corp., in conjunction with several government agencies, intends to detonate a 20,000-ton nuclear device 1,200 feet underground near Safford, Ariz. Such underground tests are within the bounds of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

The plan is to "fracture" a deposit of 1.3 million tons of copper-bearing rock. The copper would be extracted by pumping it out in a diluted acid solution.

In another experiment set for next year, Columbia Gas Systems, Inc., plans to dig a huge underground gas storage reservoir with a nuclear blast in Pennsylvania north of University Park.

Three other projects are being planned. In project Bronco, backed by some 18 oil companies, an attempt may be made to see if a hydrogen explosion could turn oil shale beds into an underground oven, unlocking vast new quantities of oil.

Two other projects involve explosions to tap new reservoirs of natural gas in Colorado. These would be similar to Project Gasbuggy, in which the A.E.C. in cooperation with the El Paso Natural Gas Company, set off the first nuclear explosion for commercial purposes.

Two A.E.C. nuclear blast experiments earlier this year are now being studied to determine the feasibility of digging canals and other waterways with atomic explosions.

Oakley said that initial estimates indicated that a canal excavated with nuclear blasts would cost $747 million, compared with up to $5 billion for one built by conventional means.

So far, no radioactivity problem has cropped up in the experiments, A.E.C. officials said.

Area Residents Invited To Safety Council Meeting

Residents of northwestern Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and western New York interested in safety are invited to hear Howard Pyle, former governor of Arizona and currently president of the National Safety Council, Chicago, who will speak in Erie, Pa., Tuesday, June 4. He will address the 52nd annual dinner meeting of the Greater Erie Safety Council at the Zem Zem Mosque. The Erie Safety Council is a division of The Greater Erie Chamber of Commerce.

Pyle joined the National Safety after a 34-year career in public service and in the communications industry. Twenty-five of those years were spent as a radio correspondent and broadcasting executive in Phoenix, Arizona. During these years he personally covered the Pacific combat zones of World War II, including the Japanese surrender aboard the Battleship Missouri, as well as the World Security Conference in San Francisco.

He was elected Governor of Arizona in 1951, and was re-elected to a second term in 1953. During these terms he twice served as chairman of the Western Governors Conference.

In 1955 he was named Deputy Assistant to the President of the United States for Federal-State Relations. In this capacity, one of his many responsibilities was that of planning contact for the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. This, coupled with his previous gubernatorial interest in safety, gave him a deep concern for, and comprehensive understanding of, the nation's accident prevention problems.

He was elected president of the National Safety Council and chairman of its Trustees in January, 1960.

Reservations for the dinner can be made by contacting the Greater Erie Safety Council, 135 Professional Building, 1611 Peach St., Erie, Pa. 16501. Reservations must be made by May 28.

New Heart Instrument May Give Doctors Precious Extra Minutes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — When a human heart stops beating, damage to organs begins almost immediately and becomes progressively worse.

The brain, deprived of the flow of blood, suffers irreversible damage within three to five minutes. The kidney survives about 15 minutes before turning into a useless mass of tissue. The liver, possibly a half hour.

To a surgeon who wants to transplant an organ from a dead person to a living patient, the moments after death are critical.

Now a medical team from the University of Pennsylvania has developed a heart resuscitation and blood circulation instrument that may be able to give doctors those precious, extra minutes, even hours.

The instrument was described

Wednesday at a meeting of the Instrument Society of America by Dr. Arthur E. Baue, who along with Dr. George L. Anstadt and other researchers developed the device.

Applied directly to the heart after the chest is opened, it has been used so far only in a handful of cases to revive the natural heart beat in patients who suffered cardiac arrest and after other, more conventional means, such as external heart massage, had failed.

But Baue foresees the time when it can be used to maintain circulation in a clinically "dead" person and thus preserve organs longer for transplanting.

The instrument, Baue says, has several advantages over hand massage. The device can keep the heart beating for several hours. In contrast, hand massage bruises the heart muscle and leaves it flabby after an hour or so. Furthermore, Baue says, the instrument provides better blood pressure and blood flow than hand massage. All this, of course, means much to a doctor trying to restore the spark of life to a patient or prepare another patient for transplant surgery.

The relatively simple instrument, Baue believes, will be within reach of the budgets of even small hospitals. In simple terms, it consists of pumps connected by hoses to a part made of glass and plastic that fits over the heart like a cup. By alternately exerting pressure then sucking on the heart, the cup keeps the heart beating.

GOP Leaders To Meet In Harrisburg

HARRISBURG — A two day meeting of the leadership of the Pennsylvania Republican Party will be held in Harrisburg May 24-25, 1968. Highlights of the gathering will be the biennial organization of the state committee and the first pre-convention meeting of the delegates and alternates to the national convention.

The sixty-four delegates and alternates will meet Friday evening in the Holiday Inn Town Hotel while the state committee will convene at 10:00 a.m., the following day, also in the same hotel.

"These meetings, in this critical election year," said State Chairman John C. Jordan, "afford us an opportunity to strengthen our resolve to go to Miami united and determined to make significant contributions in the shaping of our national ticket."

A campaign workshop for the 1968 House candidates will be held Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m., in the Dauphin Room of the Holiday Inn Town Hotel. It is sponsored by the Republican State Committee in cooperation with Kenneth B. Lee, Speaker of the House, and Lee A. Donaldson, Jr., House Majority Leader.

The 126 member state committee will conclude its business with the election of officers for the next two years and the recommendations for national committee members.

A reception and dance, honoring the convention delegates will be held Friday evening.

Fight Sends Six To Hospital

HARRISBURG (AP) — A fight broke out among 20 youngsters at the White Hill Industrial School at nearby Camp Hill Wednesday, sending six of them to the hospital.

Arthur T. Prasse, state commissioner of corrections, said four of the boys were taken to Harrisburg Hospital and two to Polyclinic with broken bones and head injuries. Another dozen or so were treated at the institution. They were not identified.

The fight, which broke out on the athletic field shortly after 7 p.m., was swiftly suppressed by security guards and seven State Police troopers from Harrisburg.

World War I Veterans Erect Flagpole in Crescent Park

Vandalism in the past at the Veterans Memorial in Crescent Park led the members of Barracks 1020, World War I Veterans to initiate a new project which was completed Wednesday.

Erected at the site was a single flagpole which will fly one flag in memory of Warren's war dead. Abandoned will be the small flags placed at the base of trees which annually have been vandalized.

William H. Shaw, barracks commander, on Wednesday commended the Warren County Commissioners for their interest and cooperation plus paying for welding necessary to place the new pole. Shaw added that North Penn Supply Company donated the pipe and United Lumber Company, the cement for the foundation.

Assistance was also forthcoming from the Warren County Veterans Affairs office.

The work was done by WW I veterans, all in their 70's.

Library Hosts Northwest Chapter

The Warren Public Library will be hosts to the Northwest Chapter of the Pennsylvania Library Association on Saturday, May 25.

Library Service for Young Adults will be the topic for discussion. Miss Elaine Walker and Miss Marjorie Foley, specialists in work with young people at the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, will be the speakers. Miss Walker is editor and compiler of "Book Bait" and "Doors to More Mature Reading", which are standard guides in book selection for young people.

Mr. Ernest E. Doershuk Jr., Pennsylvania State Librarian, will be present at the meeting.

The Northwest Chapter of the Pennsylvania State Library Association is comprised of librarians in Erie, Venango, Crawford, Clarion, Forest and McKean counties.

More than 100 librarians serving public, school, college, and special libraries will attend the meeting.

Bill Allen Discusses Scandia Roads

How to get roads improved in the Scandia area was discussed by State Representative William Allen when he met with the Scandia Mountain Association group Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller of the Wigwam.

"I am eager to see Warren County businesses benefit by the influx of tourists," Allen said. "It's high time roads on the west side of the Kinzua Lake be improved. No one wants a super highway in this scenic area. Just a wider, safer, smooth road to make driving more pleasant."

Allen invited members of the Scandia Mountain Association to meet with the Warren County Commissioners and Elton Barton, superintendent of Warren County Highway department, this afternoon at two o'clock in the commissioner's rooms in the Court House, to learn what is being talked about and planned for better Warren County roads.

Bob Wade, of Wade's Woods, was appointed to represent the Scandia Mountain group. Discussed also with Allen was the possibility of getting up a petition for Scandia area road improvement, to be signed by people using these roads this summer. Allen also urged members to use their influence to have the Hatch Run road called the Mary Jenison Trail.

Driving Instructors Course Set

HARRISBURG (AP) — A program aimed at increasing the number of certified driving instructors in Pennsylvania schools was announced here Wednesday by Secretary of Highways Robert G. Bartlett.

Bartlett, who also serves as Gov. Shafer's highway safety coordinator, said some 200 teachers will begin the 6-week course starting June 1.

Bartlett said the state and federal government joined to share equally the $65,000 cost of the training, to be conducted at 10 colleges and universities.

Each teacher will receive a $200 allowance, and each institution offering the course will get $2,500 Bartlett said. A similar program to qualify 200 more instructors was planned for next summer.

Bartlett said public and private schools in the state currently are accommodating only half the pupils eligible for driver education. He cited a need for 800 driving instructors in addition to the 937 currently employed full or part-time.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is not unique but it is causing me a great deal of anxiety. It involves the bold and unwanted attentions of the 14-year-old daughter of a business associate.

Lolita (that's not her real name) is 14 but she has the physical endowments of Anita Ekberg. Whenever her parents come to our home they bring her. I am 46, partially bald and no lady's man. No sooner do they sit down but this girl hops on my lap, runs her fingers through my hair and snuggles up close. (All this in the presence of my fuming wife and her curiously blind parents.) Her mother recently remarked, "It is just wonderful the way Lolita adores her Uncle Harry." That's me, and I am not her uncle.

Last night Lolita heard me tell her father I couldn't play golf with him this morning because I had to go to the office. She showed up at 10:00 a. m. knowing I'd be in the office alone. I had to physically remove her from the place.

Should I tell her father? Should my wife telephone her mother? Please give me some advice. I am — PERSPIRING ON THE POTOMAC

DEAR MAN: The problem does not involve your wife or Lolita's father or her mother. It is between you and this sexually precocious keg of dynamite. If you are serious about wanting to get her out of your hair (or what's left of it, Dad) you can transmit the message in unmistakable language. Throwing her out of the office was a good start. If she continues to pester you, stand up when she sits on your lap and tell her in the presence of the others that if she wants to be treated like a lady she'd better behave like one.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You frequently suggest professional help. I wonder how many people look right past that suggestion and tell themselves why it is not practical for them. I was one of those people who was certain therapy would be too costly, too

For several years I had a severe emotional problem which led to an impossible marital situation. I wrote to you and you advised me to get professional help. It meant I had to take my employer into my confidence (a painful and humiliating move), and I had to let my wife pay for my therapy (more pain and humiliation).

After 10 weeks of intensive psychiatric therapy, I am a better man emotionally, physically and morally. I now know that therapy need not take years, that it need not cost a fortune and it need not cause shame or embarrassment. My life is now back in my hands and I am determined to make something good of it.

I owe a great deal to you, to my wife and to a wonderfully competent doctor. If you would like to publish my letter, as a means of encouraging others, please feel free to do so. Sign me. — A BETTER MAN

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: Dishwater compounds are very strong and using the right one is most important when doing fine china, porcelain, glassware or any other tableware.

Some "do's and don'ts" rules I have established for myself, based on instructions from my dishwasher's manufacturer and my own experience are:

Follow manufacturer's instructions both for using your machine and for washing your tableware.

Be sure all decorations (painted and decal) are under the glaze on china or porcelain to be washed in the dishwasher. (Most glassware decorations, except for gold, are safe in the dishwasher.)

Don't place hand-painted tableware in dishwasher. (This type usually is not glazed and hence, would be damaged by strong detergents.)

Don't place silver holloware or hollow-handle silver flatware in dishwasher. (The cement in bases of holloware has a filling which extreme heat will damage.)

Don't place plastics in dishwasher unless labeled as "dishwasher proof" by the manufacturer.

Don't place wooden ware in dishwasher. High temperature will probably loosen glue. Also, the heat when drying off will cause the wood to dry out.

Don't place heavy glassware such as lead glass which is used in uncut as well as cut pieces in the dishwasher. The high heat of the water may cause the glass to expand too quickly which would cause cracks to form and might ruin the glass.

Martha Richards

DEAR HELOISE: When going on our vacation each year, I take a pair of shorts and a pair of socks and roll them in my suitcase that way. One roll for each day.

Then all I have to do is take out a roll for a change and don't have to go through the entire contents of the bag looking for each separate item.

Bill

DEAR HELOISE: I've got one special dress my three small children call my "shopping dress!"

It's a bright fluorescent pink and orange.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Five of ♠
South found that he had dealt himself the bridge player's dream—a hand containing no card below a ten spot. He properly opened the bidding with two spades and when his partner responded positively by raising to three spades, he proceeded to check for aces. North showed one ace and South bid a small slam in spades.

West opened the five of clubs and after East played the ace, he shifted to a low heart. Declarer put up the ace of hearts on which West dropped the king. South gladly would have traded one of North's spot cards in spades for his own ten at this point, for with a normal three-two division in trumps, he would be able to cash his high diamond honors and then enter dummy with the third round of trumps in order to run the balance of the diamonds. Since the dummy had no side entry, however, it appeared that declarer would have to overtake the second diamond and hope that the suit split evenly.

South observed that he had 11 top tricks, so that he was in position to run off his winners in the black suits before testing diamonds. There was a chance either that an opponent might err in discarding or else find himself burdened with too much to protect in hearts and diamonds.

Declarer accordingly proceeded to play five rounds of trumps followed by his two high clubs. As the last club was led, South was down to the jack, ten of hearts and the king, queen of diamonds and the dummy was left with four diamonds at this point and the queen of hearts, with one discard still to be made.

Convinced that he must hold on to his heart honor, East chose to throw a diamond. Declarer cashed the diamond king, overtook the queen and took the balance with dummy's now established suit.

First Week of 'Y' Day Camp Filled

The first week of YMCA girls' day camp to be held June 17-21 at Camp Bullwinkle has been filled, the YMCA announced Tuesday.

There are still openings for the second week which will run from June 24-28. The camp is for girls six to 12 years of age. The campers are transported by bus from the YMCA each morning and returned there for swimming each afternoon. The program includes horseback riding, crafts, archery, cookouts, campcraft and hiking. A special part of the program is a Thursday night camp-in at the YMCA.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1946

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Don't let little annoyances upset your day's program. Try as best you can to iron out difficulties through intelligent discussion, then proceed toward goals with confidence.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Decide upon your course carefully, then attack objectives with vigor. Accommodate to necessary changes, of course, but emphasize stick-to-itiveness.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Mercury, favorable, stimulates your ability and desire to cooperate. Managing present situations will be better than reaching for "better prospects" while unfinished tasks are still at hand.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Step sure-footedly, with foresight and deliberation now. Get an early and brisk start and you can cover more ground than even you had thought possible.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—View all things objectively; consider all possibilities before you embark on anything new or continue on any project which obviously requires overhauling. Don't fall yourself and you won't fall anyone else.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Planetary influences generous. Use your talents ably and well-planned operations should succeed as you hope. You may run into some snags, of course, but it is how you recognize them and deal with them that will count.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Key objectives should be the control of resources and proper use of all abilities. The lackadaisical and the unwary will gain nothing now. Step up your enthusiasm.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—A well positioned Mars now gives you greater incentive. This is a period in which to drive on toward worthwhile goals to the best of your ability. You can accomplish much.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—You may finalize a long-awaited contract or put over a good business deal. Negotiate from strength, backed by firm resolve.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Only some business matters can be successfully transacted in a social atmosphere; others suffer by it. In this connection, remember what went wrong in the past and avoid repetition.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—A variety of advantages indicated. Don't interrupt negotiations on matters which could suffer through delay. Whatever you do, you are usually thorough—a good thing now.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—You may face a few disconcerting situations but the advantages of this day will more than offset them. So stay in there, pitching—and you will win!

YOU BORN TODAY are always eager to be numbered among the front-runners in worthwhile and ambitious enterprises, even though you may, at times, become dispirited over your life's work or your means. You usually rise above such moods, however, because you are not only ingenious, have a steady belief in "better things possible" and a willingness to work, but have that important "will to win." You are a decisive person and, as you press forward, are practical, so that few real possibilities get by you. Birthdate of: Prof. Carolus Linnaeus, Swed, botanist.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

HYPNOTIC ATTITUDE

Hypnosis is a simple procedure when it is used judiciously. According to Chicago psychiatrist Dr. John W. Lauer, individuals have undergone major surgery while in the hypnotic state. Babies have been delivered painlessly, dental procedures have been free from discomfort and the severe pain of cancer relieved.

This sounds almost too simple, but successful hypnosis is like the old time—"it takes two to tango." The operator must be skillful and able to induce the third-stage trance, which is deep enough to produce profound muscular relaxation. The individual possesses all his senses, but has no recollection of the procedure.

Willingness on the part of the subject is a must. An hypnotic attitude means that the person seeks relief from pain. It is at this point, however, that the impractical aspect enters the picture.

According to Dr. Lauer, only 20 per cent can acquire the proper attitude. Fewer than 10 per cent can be put into a trance deep enough to permit major surgery. The best candidates are persons who respond to the necessary stimuli for an extended period of time. The remainder go just so far with hypnosis and then require anesthetics or painkillers.

Light or medium hypnosis is being used more frequently as an adjunct to an anesthetic. It helps to allay the anxiety and tension that precede an operation. Furthermore, because the individual is quieter and more cooperative, the dosage of anesthesia is lessened, thus increasing the safety of surgery.

On coming to, hypnotic suggestion is used to make the person more comfortable and to lessen the nausea and vomiting that often follow an operation.

TOMORROW: Sinner or Saint?
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

DEFICIENT MOISTURE

M.S. writes: If the thyroid gland is not working properly, does the skin become dry? If so, will drinking water help? I feel as if there were no moisture in my body.

REPLY
Dehydration leads to dryness of all tissues, but it is more noticeable in the mouth. Water is of no value, but it is surprising how rapidly the skin improves after one takes thyroid extract. Lack of thyroid also leaves the hair brittle.

TAKING ASPIRIN AND BEER
A.M. writes: If a person is taking aspirin for a cold, how long must he wait before drinking beer or alcoholic beverages?

REPLY
There is no harm in taking both at the same time but your reasons for asking are faulty. Aspirin is not a cold preventative. On the other hand, beer or alcohol may increase congestion in the nose and throat and aggravate a respiratory infection.

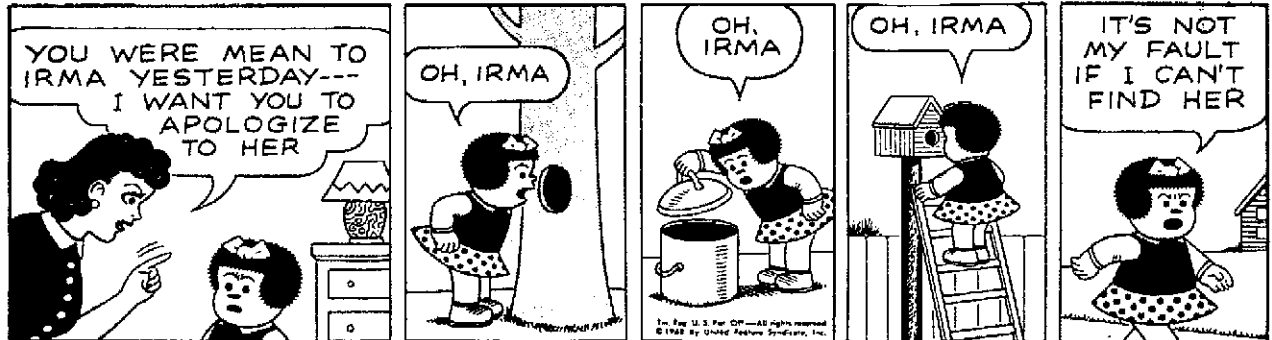

PNEUMONIA NOT SEASONAL
A.B. writes: What is the difference between summer pneumonia and the other kind?

REPLY
There is no such thing as seasonal pneumonia. This disease is classified, according to the causative organisms, as viral, streptococcal, or pneumococcal. Prior to the discovery of penicillin, pneumococcal pneumonia was the most common form.

STRICTLY HONEST — AT TIMES

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Honest crooks recently ransacked the Uptown Theater.

They ripped a hole in the wall, wrecked and burglarized the safe, tore down doors and damaged office furnishings in their search for loot.

Evidently tired by all that activity, the crooks moved to the soft drink machine. The key was on top of the machine but the intruders disregarded it and dropped in enough money for four drinks. The empties were found on the machine the following morning.

Market Rally
Runs Out of Steam

NEW YORK (AP)—A powerful stock-market rally ran out of steam Wednesday but still left the list with a gain for the second straight session. Trading was heavy.

Volume was 14.2 million shares compared with 13.16 million Tuesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed with a gain of .45 at 896.79, after being up 6.19 at 902.51. Profit taking slashed this peak advance.

Stimulating news was missing; cash was not. Pent-up reserves of institutional investors were pumped into the market, but not enough of them to keep the pot boiling.

The continued monetary confusion, high interest rates, the tax question and the turmoil in France served to put the brakes on enthusiasm.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .7 to 330.3 with

Grand Valley & Sanford News

By LILY GABER
In last week's letter the "Mother's Day" program of the Sanford Church was inadvertently omitted. Mrs. Ada Reynolds Sunday School class gave some recitations and Miss Nancy Reynolds of the junior class made little leaflets with Mother's Day greetings, a verse to mothers and a book-mark embroidered with a pretty flower for each mother present.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rhinehart returned Thursday from their winter home in Lake Helen, Florida, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Holcomb for lunch and dinner. Friday callers of the Rhineharts were Walter Keppel, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowles and Mrs. Clara Lynn of Corry and Mr. and Mrs. Hagberg. Saturday the Rhineharts visited Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bush at Jamestown, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nasman at Scandia.

Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber there will be a Sanford Cemetery Association meeting at 8 p. m. All interested in the Sanford Cemetery are requested to be present.

Mrs. Glenda Wynn spent the week end with her daughter, Mrs. Sonnie Garber, and family. Saturday night they all visited Mr. and Mrs. David Morelli. Sunday callers of the Garbers were Mrs. Irene Allen and daughter of Corry and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garber.

Mrs. Carl Garber is visiting her sister Mrs. Velma Long at Corry.

Mrs. John Wittig who has been a patient in the Titusville Hospital is recuperating at her home but must remain in bed most of the time. She wishes to thank her friends for the many cards and prayers. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wittig of Garland and Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Wittig of Warren visited her on Mother's Day and her son Ronnie called from Las Vegas, Nevada.

Union Aid was held last Wednesday with election of officers: Mrs. Adda Marshall for president and Mrs. Ida Moranski for vice president; Betty Danielson secretary, and Mrs. Bess Johnson treasurer.

Mrs. Lois Moravek and son Alan were Sunday callers of the Pierce and Danielson home. Mr. and Mrs. John Pastercheck accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber to the Warren Electric Cooperative meeting held in the Youngsville school auditorium on Wednesday night. The auditorium was filled, many from here attending; many nice prizes were won. Sunday evening supper guests of the Garbers were Mr. and Mrs. Louie Dunham and Mr. Dunham's mother, all of Warren, and callers were Mr. and Mrs. John Pastercheck.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garber were dinner and supper guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Oberts.

The Newton Dinner Club was held Friday at the home of Mrs.

LITTLE CLERICAL FUN
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio has publicized a slogan which proclaims "Profit is not a dirty word in Ohio."

During a recent legislative session, state Rep. Keith McNamara, Columbus, brought a chuckle from the Rev. Alvin Duane Smith, Ohio House chaplain, when he passed a slip of paper on which was written: "Prophet is not a dirty word in Ohio."

Notes From Wrightsville

By DONNA DURLIN
Mr. and Mrs. Nick Koren of Portsmouth, Va., were week end guests of the latter's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bernarr Whiteley. The Korens and Whiteleys attended Lottsville Alumni and School Reunion Saturday evening.

Mrs. Carl Sandeen and Mrs. Walter Sandeen of Union City were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Loretta Scranon. Mrs. Fred Klidder is recuperating at her home after she had the misfortune of falling on the street of Corry recently.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. James Durlin and Donna were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Durlin of Corry, Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Durlin of Russell, Mrs. Marvin Sliter of Jackson Run and Mr. and Mrs. Will Durlin of Pittsfield.

Mr. and Mrs. James Durlin observed their 52nd Wedding Anniversary Monday, May 20.

Mrs. Marguerite Clark has returned home after spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Ida Driscoll of Jamestown.

What distinguishes a hospital from any other large building? It is the people in it — people caring for people. It is the concern for the individual patient, the skill focused on the needs of the patient — these are the humane factors that make a hospital unique.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Section 9 of the Act of Congress of August 31, 1964, Public Law 88-533, 78 Stat. 738, provides:
"The Seneca Nation shall have the right to use and occupy the taking area of the Allegheny Reservoir project within the Allegheny Reservation for all purposes not inconsistent with the interests in land acquired by the United States as set forth in section 1 of this Act (flowage, highway and utility easements), including, but not limited to, . . . the right to hunt and fish on such lands, and to license hunting and fishing by non-members of the nation AND THE RIGHT TO REGULATE ACCESS TO THE SHORELINE OF THE RESERVOIR: PROVIDED, That public access to the shoreline shall be provided and no charge shall be made to the public therefor: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the use by the public of the water areas of the Allegheny Reservoir project shall be pursuant to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Army may prescribe." Please take notice that the Seneca Nation, in accordance with Public Law 88-533, will set aside locations within the Allegheny Indian Reservation where members of the public may have access to the shoreline of the Allegheny Reservoir. Except at the places so designated, and except for members of the Nation, the crossing or other use of Seneca lands to reach the water is prohibited. Violators will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

California Politicians Expect Bobby to Win Primary There

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
LOS ANGELES—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is expected by most California politicians to win the Democratic primary here on June 4.
Many party leaders question, however, whether his share of the vote will be large enough to assure the New Yorker the presidential nomination at the national convention in Chicago next August.
“If we get more than 50 per cent of the vote here,” a key Kennedy adviser said, “I don’t see how they can stop us. But the Humphrey people think that if we can be held under 45 per cent, they will be able to pull it off.”
This prediction, however, relies on an intervening victory for the senator in Oregon next Tuesday. If Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota should upset Kennedy there, the California contest could become much closer.
Just what role, if any, the supporters of Vice President Humphrey will play in the California primary remains unclear with less than two weeks to go. Former Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown announced Wednesday that he supports Humphrey for the nomination.
Two days ago, Brown was telling friends he would back the vice president but did not know what to advise other like-minded California Democrats to do on primary day to make their position count.
There is no popularity contest on the California ballot, only a choice between three slates of 172 delegates each. One is pledged to McCarthy, one to Kennedy and one to Thomas G. Lynch, the state attorney general who was originally chosen as a stand-in for President Johnson.
The combination of the president’s withdrawal and Kennedy’s entry demoralized the Lynch slate. About a third of its members defected to Kennedy. The rest would have endorsed Humphrey but received contrary instructions from Washington.
Now the most ardent Humphrey backers here feel it would be suicidal to try to organize a demonstration of support for the vice president through votes for the Lynch slate. Generally, party leaders believe this group will only get between 5 and 15 per cent of the Democratic vote. But the polls seem to disagree. A Muchmore poll in the Los Angeles Times last weekend gave 25 per cent of the vote to the Lynch slate, 25 per cent to McCarthy and 40 per cent to Kennedy, with the remaining 10 per cent undecided.

The McCarthy leaders admit they are currently trailing Kennedy, but they insist that a base of 25 per cent of the vote with two weeks to go is the biggest their candidate has ever enjoyed in the primaries, one that can be raised to the status of contention with a strong television campaign.

Milton Hershey School Decides to Admit Negroes

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Milton Hershey School, which has operated as a private institution for poor white male orphans since 1910, decided Wednesday to admit Negroes, the chairman of its Board of Managers reported.
James E. Bobb, the chairman, would not relate the decision to this week’s U. S. Supreme Court ruling that all-white Girard College in Philadelphia, also a private institution, must admit Negroes.
Bobb said the decision was made at a special board meeting, and it was subject to concurrence of Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett, Sennett was out of town, and not immediately available for comment.
“The concurrence of the attorney general is being requested since he is exclusive representative of the public in matters affecting charitable trusts, and is also the chief law enforcement officer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,” Bobb said.
Bobb said the school, which has an enrollment of 1,500 boys, operates under a 1909 deed of trust set up by Milton S. Hershey founder of the worldwide Hershey Chocolate organization. The deed specified that the institution admit poor white male orphan boys, most of whom are from Pennsylvania, Bobb said.
Bobb said the students range in age from 4 to 18, and may take courses that prepare them for a vocation or college. Run by Hershey Estates, the school is located on 10,000 acres of land in this small community that is headquarters for the Hershey Foods Corp.
Boys are admitted to Milton Hershey throughout the year, Bobb said, adding that normal processing could take from six to 10 weeks.
